REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The patent to Boylan et al. discloses a blackjack game wherein when a push occurs, the player or dealer having the higher two card poker ranking wins, see col. 2, line 57 to col. 3, line 38. Example, player has Ace + 9 =20, and dealer has pair of Jacks = 20, the dealer's pair of Jacks wins. The patent to Jackson discloses a blackjack game having various rules for breaking ties, col. 6, lines 57-63. The patent to Prerost discloses a blackjack game having the step of replacing a card in a player's hand with a new card if the player places an additional wager.

2. None of the cited references alone or in combination teach a blackjack game having the claimed combination of the steps of "said King, Queen and Jack are assigned an actual value, in addition to their numerical value, wherein the King has a higher value than a Queen, which has a higher value than a Jack, which has a higher actual value than a card having the number ten", "allowing each player the option of having the dealer replace the second card of the player with a new second card, for a price of a portion of the player's original bet, in order to achieve a better hand", and "having a tied game in which neither the dealer nor the player win the game, if the total numerical value of the player's hand is equal to that of the dealer's hand, unless the dealer and the player each have a card selected form the group of cards consisting of Kings, Queens, and Jacks; resolving the tie by comparing the actual values of the King, Queen, or Jack of the player and the dealer; winning the game by the player if the
